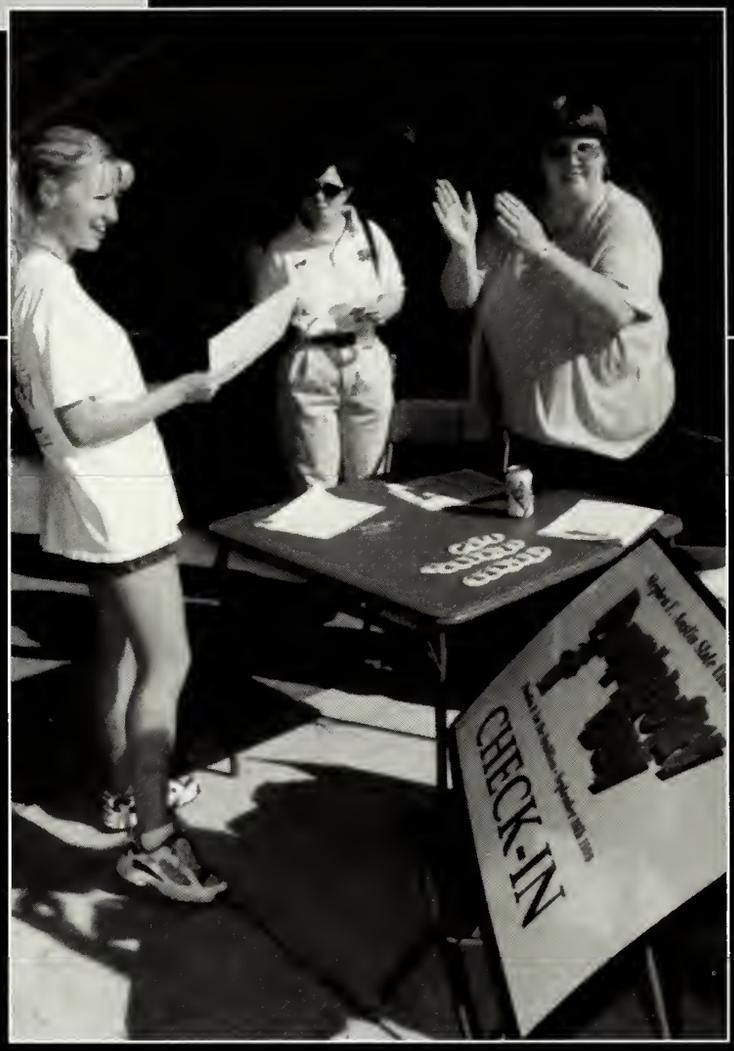
Beverly Farmer



SFA's Greek system is a valuable resource for many students in developing organizational and leadership skills. But who leads the leaders?

Beverly Farmer, associate director of student activities, is the adviser to the Interfraternity Council and the Panhellenic Council.

Her basic job, she said, is to make suggestions. "I try to help them show continuity from year to year," she said.

For example, if a sorority is planning an event, she can tell them what worked last year and what didn't. Also, since the IFC has a new constitution for the first time in many years, she lets fraternities know when they're stepping close to the line. This guidance is valuable for organizations in which the student leadership changes from year to year.

Farmer also keeps on top of national trends in Greek systems.

For women, "membership recruitment" is preferred over "rush," and there is a greater emphasis on choosing a sorority the student will be happy in.

"It's a mutual selection process," Farmer said. "I always tell them to follow their heart, not their head."

For the men, many national fraternities have gone dry and discourage alcohol parties at the fraternity house in an effort to improve the stereotypical fraternity image.

SFA's fraternities have taken steps to improve their image, Farmer said. The men now have a dry rush, something she said didn't exist when she began overseeing the Greeks about two years ago, and the enforcement is getting stronger. Now not only are the rush parties dry, but members have been fined by their fraternity for having open containers in cars. Steps is also regulated, and men who have had too much to drink are not allowed to jump.

Also, Farmer said the new chapters joining IFC are challenging the older ones to stop being complacent and improve standards.

Academic standards in sororities are on the rise, with deferred rush in place and a 2.4 GPA and 12 hours of college work requirement to rush. The Greek women's GPA is usually at or above the overall women's GPA of 2.78.

The Greek men's GPA, however, is below the overall men's GPA of 2.49. Farmer said one reason for lower grades in the fraternities may be the level involvement in the fraternity on the part of the chapter adviser. While about three of the fraternities have advisers who are very active and current in the fraternity's activities, the sorority advisers are, on average, more involved, she said. Also, sorority members are more likely to be dropped from the sorority if their grades aren't high enough, she said.

Sororities and fraternities are both improving their images through increase publicity of their many service projects. Some of the projects supported by SFA Greeks are breast cancer awareness, food drives and political rallies. One of the biggest Greek-supported programs in the area are the Boys and Girls Clubs, Farmer said.

"There's a lot of money going to Boys and Girls Clubs from the Greek system," she said.

Despite some challenges, Farmer said the best part of her job was working with students.

"I get to work with some of the cream of the crop," she said.

Fall 1999 Rush

About 479 SFA students joined IFC fraternities and Panhellenic Council sororities in rush this fall.

According to Jason Ellis, IFC vice president of public relations and Spring senior, more than 275 men participated in this year's rush. This number is h higher than previous semesters.

Ellis said this past spring about 150 men participated in rush, and last fall about 130 joined in the festivities.

"The reason for the increase is because this year we eliminated deferred rush," Ellis said. "For the past couple of years we've been moving back and forth between having and not having it. This semester we decided not to have it because it prevents incoming freshman from joining in."

Deferred rush was used to stop students without 12 or more hours from rushing. Now any incoming freshman with an 83 average from high school can rush.

About 204 women took part in this year's rush according to Robin Suratt, president of Panhellenic Council and Atlanta senior.

Unlike men, the women have seen a decline I n participants without the restriction of deferred rush. Last fall the total of women rushing was approximately 250.

"We really were expecting a bigger turnout this year," Suratt said. "I believe part of the reason is because the media has criticized the Greek system so much that it has scared off some of the incoming freshman. Some other factors for the decrease are that we cut the deadline for applications by a week and raised the incoming GPA from a 2.2 to a 2.4."

Women's rush ended Aug. 26 on bid day. the rushees stood in the middle of sorority row and their names were called out. Then they ran to the club of their choice, which greeted them with hugs and cheers.

Men's rush ended a t noon Sept. 11 with Steps. For this tradition, the men stand at the top of the steps at the Austin Building and "step" their way into their desired fraternity.

ZBT and AXΩ carve pumpkins with the Boys Ranch

Broomsticks smashing and knives carving were just a few of the sights to be seen yesterday as Zeta Beta Tau and Alpha Chi Omega sorority kicked off their third annual Halloween Pumpkin Carving.

This year's event was held at the ZBT house, and the two organizations hosted 50 boys from the Nacogdoches Boys Ranch. Children and organization members entertained each other by carving pumpkins and playing basketball.

"Events like these give the Greek community an opportunity through philanthropic endeavors to raise the awareness of community service in Nacogdoches," Erin Murphy, president of Alpha Chi Omega and Houston junior, said.

Zeta Beta Tau president Justin Cockrum, Malakoff senior, said he is thankful he and his brothers had the opportunity to share and work with underprivileged children. "This gives us a chance to be positive role models and like a big brother to these boys," he said. "It has also opened up our eyes and made us appreciate everything that we have."

Each of the organizations is concentrating on doing more in the community this year. This is one of five community service events Zeta Beta Tau has participated in this month.

Organizations

The SFA Alumni Association exists to promote the welfare and spirit of SFA by enlisting alumni to become members of the organization and encouraging their support of the association's activities for raising funds for the SFA Scholarship Fund.

The SFA Alumni Association and Alumni Foundation scholarship endowments total more than $14 million.

About 600 students at the university were aided by more than $600,000 in alumni scholarships this year.

The SFA Alumni Association sponsors the university's Homecoming celebration, during which approximately $135,000 was raised from activities such as the Duck Dash, Silent Auction, televised auction, benefit raffle and golf tournament.

The organization is governed by the officers and directors of the association and is headed by Dr. Miles McCall, vice president for alumni affairs.

One of the biggest highlights from this year is a history-making individual gift, starting with an initial $1.5 million contribution from the estate of the late SFA history professor Dr. Vera Lea Dugas.

The donation is the largest gift from an individual to the SFA Alumni Association, and, after the estate is liquidated, the estimated $3 million total will be the largest cash gift to SFA. Funds from the gift will create at least 20 to 30 new scholarships through the SFA Alumni Association.

Additional highlights from this year include the association's co-sponsorship of Lumberjack Alley with the SFA Department of Athletics and Nacogdoches Charter Chapter and the growth of the Charter Chapters.

Lumberjack Alley has the potential to become one of SFA's many great traditions. Lumberjack Alley is located in the commuter parking lot across from William R. Johnson Coliseum and provides spaces for individual tailgate parties on game days.

Pre-game festivities include live music, fellowship with friends and great food sizzling on grills. About 50 commercial and individual parties were held during the Homecoming weekend at Lumberjack Alley.

The Charter Chapter program enters its second year with nearly 10 official chapters organized in Texas (Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Nacogdoches, Lufkin, Waco, Tyler, Longview, Beaumont, San Antonio) and interest generated for Charter Chapters in Illinois, Louisiana, California, Georgia and in the New England area.

The association's website (www.sfaalumni.com) continues to grow and features an e-commerce section where alumni can purchase SFA merchandise or association memberships.

All SFA students are encouraged to become members of the SFA Alumni Association.

Joining the SFA Alumni Association is the best way to keep in touch with the activities and events happening at SFA. You'll discover that being a member of the association is rewarding, valuable, and most of all, fun.

Simply pick up the phone and call us at 1-800-765-1534 or 409-468-3407, email us at alumni@sfasu.edu or visit us online at www.sfaaalumni.com.

The SFA Rodeo Club, one of the largest organizations on campus, strives to bring together students with a common interest in rodeo, the "cowboy" lifestyle, and the heritage of the American West. Since 1991 it has maintained membership of at least 140 people.

As a part of the Rodeo Club, the Rodeo Team competes in the Southern Region of the National Intercollegiate Rodeo Association. A member of the team is eligible for travel reimbursement, practice facilities, stock, coaches, and limited scholarship. To be eligible for these benefits, a person must be active in the club and attend team practices as spelled out in the club constitution.

The Rodeo Club is active in the community and on campus. Members have a shoe-shine booth at Jitterbugs to supplement the university's travel allocation, work at local rodeo events such as the "Bull Bash" and the Nacogdoches Jaycee's PRCA Rodeo, and have adopted a portion of Loop 224 as a part of the Texas Adopt-A-Highway program. They host their own annual NIRA sanctioned rodeo, and the club trip is to McNeese State University's rodeo in Lake Charles, LA. Plans for an intramural rodeo and sports tournament are under consideration, and the club recently began offering a weekly Bible study for interested members.

A unique facet of the club is the existence of its own Rodeo Club Alumni Association, the only such club at SFA. The two clubs work together to sponsor the Alumni Rodeo as a benefit for the scholarship fund. These efforts have raised more than $45,000 in the last five years. A person does not have to compete in rodeo to be a member of the club. In fact, about 75 percent of the club is not active in NIRA.

SGA Presents First Annual Beauty and Brawns

The SGA started what they hope will become a new tradition.

The Beauty and Brawns Competition was held in November at Sneakers, giving the lucky winner the titles of SFA Beauty and SFA Brawn, along with gift certificates from area merchants, SFA merchandise and this feature in the Stone Fort Yearbook.

LaShundra Anderson, Desoto sophomore, won the title for the women, representing Delta Sigma Theta, and Heather Gleason, Longview senior, was first runner-up. Gleason represented Chi Omega.

Chris Sam, Beaumont junior, won the men's title, representing Kappa Alpha Psi, and Mike Snowden, Manor senior, was first runner-up. Snowden represented Delta Chi.

At the beginning of the competition, 19 young ladies and 13 young men introduced themselves, modeled their "Back the Jacks" wear, demonstrated their school spirit and answered a question posed by the emcees.

Based on their spirit and their answers, the field was narrowed to 10 contestants, who competed in the talent competition.

Entrants strutted their stuff, doing everything from Britney Spears impersonations, and two Ike and Tina Turner shows to country music singing and a poetry reading/strip show.

After the talent competition, the group was cut down to five contestants. They were judged on their beauty and poise to select the winners and the first runners-up.

1999 - 2000 Residence Halls

SFA provides the choice 14 residence halls to all students. Steen hall is the most populated holding up to 764 residents. Two residence halls, Hall 10 and Mays Hall, are equipped with an Academic Enrichment Center for students who desire a more structured living environment. South Hall also has an Academic Excellence Center. Both halls require that students attend tutoring sessions and a set number of study hours.

The Units

The Units is an all male single level residence hall with several unique qualities. It is home for 200 male students who are able to park within 10 feet of their room. The easy-access to the outdoors promotes a social atmosphere that the residents take part in. Participation is high for events involving sports such as intramurals, tournaments, and supporting SFA.

Wisely Hall

Wisely Hall is the home of the Academic Excellence Center. It is a co-ed community where most of the residents know each other. The environment at Wisely is well suited for studying as well as having fun. Activities include: Battle of the Sexes, Pot Luck, Lunch on Parent's Day, Halloween Party, Winter Luau, and a Polaroid Scavenger Hunt.

Todd Hall

Todd Hall is the home of 86 wonderful women. Our awesome Hall Association originates many of our programs and activities, supports other organizations on campus and seeks improvements for the hall. The residents here are friendly and involved in hall activities. In this small community everyone contributes so much in making Todd Hall the best that it can be.

North Hall

North Hall is an all-female hall residence hall, which houses 88 women. The residents participate in the Hall Association, RHA and many social and service activities. North Hall is a thriving community, and it is always cool to live up North.

Hall 10

Hall 10 is the home away from home for 150 women on the SFA campus. Hall 10 is part of the Academic Enrichment Learning Center. The active Hall Association calendar includes: secret pals, recycling programs, Freshman Survival Week programs, food drives and cultural diversity programs, plus several programs that reach all areas of the Wellness-Wheel.

Mays Hall

Mays Hall was named after Ruth E. Mays and was built in 1950 to house women. In 1962, the hall became the home of the health clinic. Then, in 1975 Mays was turned back into a residence hall for men. In 1992, it was made into the male Academic Enrichment Center and now houses 153 residents. Mays Hall has won several Record Breaking Weekends and Hall of the Year Honors.

South Hall

South Hall Association is making high strides in providing a wide variety of programs throughout the semester. It is a new association that wants to make a difference in our hall, and we have a new officer group to make this happen. South Hall is an all-female hall, which thrives on community development and community involvement.

Wilson Hall

Wilson Hall, home to 218 Lumberjack, takes pride in being the only all-male non-smoking residence hall on campus. Its social calendar includes sponsoring blood drives, being active in intermural sports, volunteering in community activities, and was Hall of the year 1998-99.

Hall 1-4

Hall 1-4 is located on the east side of campus between Steen Hall and East College Cafeteria. Hall 1-4 is active in all types of programs ranging from intramural sports to the "Hall 1-4 Social" and "Rap Session" along with various other programs like the Hall 1-4 cookout, and the "Drive for Life: The Hall 1-4 Blood Drive".

Griffith Hall

Griffith Hall, located off North Street on the SFA campus, houses 536 women. It was built in 1964 and was named after Martha Griffith. Residents' busy social calendars include Parents Day, a Halloween Party, a Christmas Extravaganza, Health Week, Welcome Week, and Family and Friends Weekend.

Hall 16

Hall 16 is home for 400 men at SFA. The Hall Association has spent its time and money improving the hall. The hall annually sponsors Fright Night, and is heavily involved in Parent's Day, Homecoming, and Family and Friends Weekend. Currently, the Hall Association is working on improving the hall study room.

Steen Hall

Steen Hall is the largest residence hall on campus, with two 10-story towers housing 700 women. Steen Hall residents and staff present over 100 programs a semester covering awareness topics such as date rape, HIV, study tips, etc. Steen Hall is active in Parents Weekend, Homecoming, and the Christmas Tree Lighting.

Kerr Hall

Kerr Hall is home for 536 students at SFA. The women who live in Kerr are very active in many organizations including RHA. The residents plan and participate in a variety of activities including intramurals, Homecoming, Parents Day, Sweat Equity Day, Record breaking Weekend, and many more.

Hall 20

Hall 20 is centrally located by the SFA Ag Pond and Homer Bryce Stadium. It is one of the two co-ed halls on campus. The hall is active in Residence Hall Association and in athletic events. Hall 20 is known for its support of the Lumberjacks and Ladyjacks.

Lumberjack Football

After the 1998 football season, the skies weren't looking too bright for the Lumberjack football team. They managed to pull in a 3-8 record, although they were looking for improvement due to the hiring of a new head coach. That coach would be Mike Santiago and he led the team to a 8-3 start.

"This year went better than expected," Santiago said. "We shared in the Southland Conference Championship, which has only been done one other time in this school's history. It was real big for us. I'm really proud of this senior class, they believed in what we did."

Santiago and his coaching staff said that they believe this year will only raise the expectations and progress that the Lumberjacks should make.

"I expect this program to build from this season on," Santiago said. "This program is working towards hitting a peak and pinnical."

Big-Time Basketball

The USA Olympic Basketball team came to Johnson Coliseum in the fall thanks to the efforts of USA Coach Nell Fortner, a former Ladyjack assistant coach. Students, faculty, staff and community fans packed the house to see the world reknowned women players, who were on the tail-end of their collegiate tour prior to the Olympic season. The Ladyjacks and their coaches participated in a photo session with the Olympians prior to the game.

Olympic Gold

Head Coach Royce Chadwick is excited. He cannot believe his luck. On December 7th, 1999, the U.S. Women's Olympic will be here in William R. Johnson Coliseum to play against our very own Stephen F. Austin Ladyjacks. When asked how he and his team felt about the upcoming game, Coach Chadwick replied, "This is a big coupe for us. Everybody is excited and looking forward to the game. This will be one of the high points in our girls playing careers." Tami Rater (42) Mesquite Junior stated that, "she could not wait to play against Lisa Lesley, and added that these are the best players in the world, and how many (college) players get to compete against there idols."

Leading the Ladyjacks this year are returning seniors: Shawnta Johnson (00) Fresno, Ca., Stephanie Whitmore (20) Daingerfield, and Tekeniesha Henry (22) Fort Worth. With the players added during recruitment, Coach Chadwick feels that SFA will give a good showing at the game. Coach Chadwick says, "Our girls are doing great right now, the team chemistry is there, and the teamwork is starting to get together."

This year, Coach Chadwick feels that we can win Conference, the Southland Conference tournament (which gives the winner a NCAA Sweet 16 seed), and advance further into the NCAA tournament than last year.

The Ladyjack volleyball team poses for a post-tournament picture after winning the Southland Conference Championships in Arlington, Texas, on Nov. 18.

The Ladyjack volleyball team planned a difficult preseason in order to help them prepare for their conference play. They began their season travelling heading to Southern Methodist University, in Dallas, and then travelling to Indiana to compete in a tournament hosted by Purdue University.

By the looks of their 24-9 season, their first few matches payed off. Even though they lost all four matches, they coasted through conference play and the Southland Conference Tournament.

"We started out slow this season and had some people out with injuries," head coach Debbie Humphreys said. "We had high expectations, and we struggled at first. We got things together and momentum built throughout the season. We gradually improved early, and never hit a peak. I've had teams that peaked early and then plateaued off. This team has continues improving."

Fight Night:

'It's a Girl!'

THE BELL RINGS TO BEGIN THE MATCH. TWO FIGHTERS COME AT EACH OTHER WITH FLAILING FISTS. PUNCH AFTER PUNCH IS LANDED, AND SWEAT STARTS TO POUR. OUR FIGHTER EVENTUALLY FALLS. THE WINNER IS ANNOUNCED, AND IT IS A WOMAN.

For Norma Almanza, this situation was a reality and a dream come true. She is the current women's lightweight champion of the Kappa Alpha Fight Night. Almanza has been highly involved in boxing and kickboxing for six years. "I was always really little, and then I got interested in a karate school that was close to where my mother took aerobics," she said. "After that I kind of became the neighborhood bully."

Her take on the sport of female boxing: "I think it goes along with the '90s woman.' We like to know that we are just as good as men."

"Women are more ruthless than men, and it shows in boxing," she said.

The art of boxing is empowering to the junior pre-med major. She feels that, overall, boxing is 90 percent mental and 10 percent physical. "It's like a jigsaw puzzle," Almanza said. "You have to find out your opponents' weaknesses and eventually use that to shut down their mental capacity to fight."

Butts

Almanza began training about three months prior to an actual competition. She said the process is vigorous and includes exercise and diet plans. Her physical exercise includes working out for 12 and a half hours a week. Almanza also had to perform the necessary 10 training hours to compete in Fight Night. She would run three and a half miles three times a week, and in addition to her training, Almanza taught a cardiovascular kickboxing class.

After months of physical and mental preparations, the weekend of the competition finally approached. One of her main concerns was her family. "This was the first time my family had ever seen me fight. I put in so much effort, so I had to make them proud."

Friday night was her first fight. She compared it to living out a nightmare. The atmosphere was tense and the crowd intimidated her. "I just didn't have the 'go,'"she recalled. First, Almanza lost a contact lens, but the worst was yet to come. While fighting,. her shoulder was knocked out of socket. Even in excruciating pain, however, she managed to finish and win the bout.

The next night, though, was hers. "I did a total 180. It was a perfect fight." Almanza did not realize she had won by a technical knockout until her trainer jumped into the ring to congratulate her.

Almanza plans to continue to box and participate in Fight Night. And while she is also looking at her academic goals and other options, professional boxing is a possibility for her.

"I definitely would like to fight professionally, but I want to finish school first," she said. She wants to attend medical school as well. "I could fight for a few years after college to earn enough money to pay for my education in medical school," she said.

Almanza encourages any female interested in boxing try it out and stick with it. She feels it has taught her to be aggressive about what she wants. "That alone has helped me be a role model," she said.

Where do student dollars go?

Dissecting student bills shows diverse uses for funds

At the beginning of each semester, more than 10,000 SFA students stand in line at the business office waiting patiently to pay thousands of dollars to the University and thinking they will never see the money again.

However, the University budget indicates that money from student tuition and fees is hard at work all around campus. Student fees are shooting hoops in Johnson Coliseum. Student fees are the SFL co-champions. Student fees are sitting at the corner of Clark and Raguet streets, waiting for Dr. Dan Angel, former SFA president, to move out and someone else to move in. Student fees are shuttling students from the commuter lot to the Liberal Arts North Building, twirling batons at halftime and printing term papers in the library.

Where we stand

In the overall scheme of things, tuition and fees only account for 26.22 percent of SFA's annual income, according to Dr. Roland Smith, SFA interim president and vice president for business affairs. The state is SFA's main financial backer, with state funds accounting for 39.05 percent of the University's income. Federal and state grants, private donations, endowments and sales make up the remainder.

SFA's projected income in the 1999-2000 fiscal year is $67,915,278, with student fees making up $11,449,414 of that amount. State appropriations are projected at $52,263,354, while other income, such as investment accounts, library fines and transcript fees total $3,773,810.

Crunching Numbers

Most of the fees itemized on students' bills are self explanatory — the library fee goes to the library, for example — but others are blanket fees that fund many different areas.

The fee distributed to the most sources is the SB 1907 Tuition fee. Formerly called "general fee," the name was changed after Texas Senate Bill 1907 was passed requiring universities to quit using the term "general fee."

The Texas Legislature set a cap on the amount of the fee, saying it cannot exceed but can equal the tuition rate.

The largest chunk of this fee goes to the athletic department.

Athletic medical expenses, merchandising, reserve, training , game operations, recruiting, team travel, scholarships and facility costs are all taken from SB 1907.

Various academic departments, as well as UPD, student activities, alumni services, the Fine Arts Series, the Multicultural Center and campus Christmas lights all receive funds from this fee.

More than $3 million of the SB 1907 Tuition fee is allocated to athletics, while approximately $1 million goes to academic departments and scholarships. Another $3 million of the fee's total $7, 731,865 is budgeted to other things, such as debt, class 1 halls and the president's home.

According to the University budget most of the money given to the athletic department is allocated to scholarships.

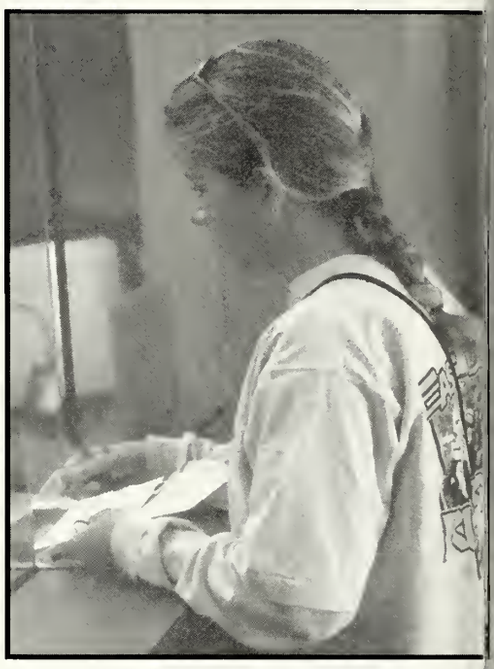
Steve McCarty, athletic director, said the athletic department has not increased its funding from student fees in four or five years.

"In fact, we voluntarily took a few cutbacks," he said. "We generate a lot of our own income from game guarantees, ticket sales and fund drives."

He said the funding for scholarships comes from all of these sources as well as from student fees.

However, pages 36 and 37 of the University budget list game guarantees, ticket sales, concessions and NCAA revenue as all going to game operations, travel expenses, recruiting and the athletic department itself.

It shows all athletic scholarships as coming from SB 1907 Tuition and the Student Service fee. In all $1,197,451 went to athletic scholarships, with no other sources besides student fees indicated in the budget.



Sarah Wagner, Bellville sophomore, pays her bill at the Business Off Students are expected to spend $11,449,414 in tuition and fees this y The University budget, on file in Steen Library, details how funds ar appropriated.

The bill that kills

Just like most of its students, the University ha to pay utility bills to companies like TXU and South western Bell. While people from the SFA' controller's office won't be standing in line at Sun shine Foot Mart to pay the bills, it is the job of th controller's office to "make sure we receive a prope invoive and the bills are paid in a timely manner, Dora Fuselier, controller, said.

According to Fuselier, these are SFA's averag montly utility costs --

Electricity	$267,437
Telephone	$50,625
Natural Gas	$41,062
Waste Disposal	$22,358
Water	$20,513
Cable	$12,829

McCarty said SFA awards the maximum allotment of athletic scholarships the NCAA allows for its different sports, with the current exceptions of women's soccer, women's tennis and women's track. The full scholarships cover tuition, fees, books, room and board.

Each semester SFA awards 63 football scholarships, 13 men's basketball scholarships, 15 women's basketball scholarships and 12.6 men's track scholarships.

Also awarded are 17 women's track scholarships, 6.5 women's tennis scholarships, 12 volleyball scholarships, 12 softball scholarships and 10 soccer scholarships. At the end of one year, the scholarship can be renewed, canceled, increased or decreased. McCarty said some sports like volleyball can't give partial scholarships, but football, for example, can portion out scholarships to up to 85 players, as long as the total doesn't exceed the amount for full scholarships for 63 people.

More breakdowns

Aside from athletics, the student service fee supports many student organizations and extra-curricular activities.

The marching band, pep band, Twirl-O-Jacks, Cheerleaders, Pom Pon Squad and SGA all receive a cut from this fee.

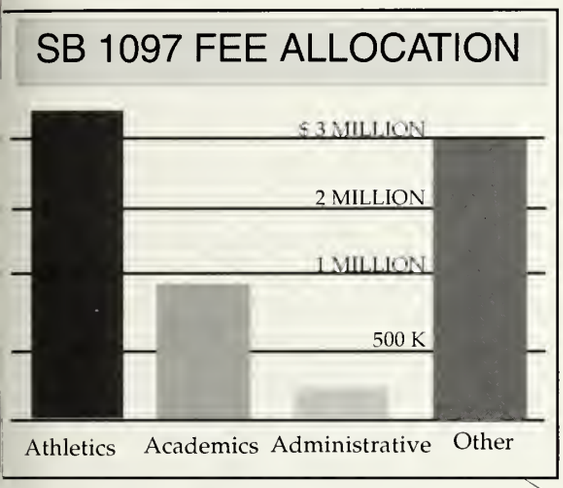
Part of the computer use fee goes to the computer science department, while the rest goes to telecommunications, the department responsible for networking SFA's computers. The money helps secure new computers and software for the University.

Dr. Mary Ann Blind, director of the Office of Instructional Technology, said securing funds for computers begins on a departmental level.

"The department or college is responsible for getting computers and software for its faculty and staff," she said.

"The labs in the departments or buildings can ask for University funding, grants or donations."

Complete breakdowns of student fee allocations are printed in the University budget, which can be checked out at the Steen Library circulation desk.



(Right) Annually, $25,000 is budgeted for the operations and maintenance of the University president's home on Starr Avenue.
(Below) Parking permits and fines account for $990,000 of projected income. The money is collected by the University and re-allocated to University Police.

Part of the computer use fee goes to the computer science dept. while the majority of it goes to telecommunications to help secure new technology for professors and campus labs,

Course fees pay for various class materials. Fees may be higher or lower than others, depending on the class. The minimum course fee is $6.

$2 per credit hour goes entirely to fund the Steen Library,

$1 per credit hour goes to pay for the printing of general bulletins, class schedules and recruitment materials; it does not go to the Department of Student Publications

Jason Adams, Nacogdoches senior, has spent his fair share of time in SFA desks. But in November, the view was a little different.

Adams spent a morning in the office of SFA President Dr. Dan Angel, but he certainly wasn't in trouble. He won the opportunity to switch places with Angel through a raffle sponsored by the Student Foundation Association. As part of the deal, Adams got to park in the president's parking space, sit in the president's chair and enjoy lunch at the president's house with three friends. He even got a nameplate on the desk.

Angel got to go to class.

The two met in the morning and then went their separate ways. While Adams met with the vice presidents and deans, Angel munched donuts in the cafeteria and shot pool in the gameroom before heading to the McGee Business Building to turn in homework and take notes.

Even though Angel was ready to play the part of student from the Lumberjack Marching Band cap on his head to the sneakers on his toes, he still caused a little confusion when he showed up at an advanced microcomputer applications class.

Back in the office, Adams and Dr. James Standley, dean of applied arts and sciences, discussed the growth of the University and the progress made in securing accreditation for a master's program in social work.

Having grown up in Nacogdoches, Adams was familiar with SFA long before he became a student here, but the perspective from the inside is still unique, he said.

"In a lot of ways, I feel like I went off to school," Adams said. "The school is like a whole different city."

As president for the day, Adams got to map a part of the SFA city he'd never seen before.

"As a student, I had no idea how much goes on," he said. "Everything comes through the president's office."

"It's really a special job, being a university president," Angel said. "You have some weighty issues to decide, but there are lots of opportunities."

At the end of the day, both Angel and Adams expressed satisfaction about the day's experiences.

"I think we both had a good time," Adams said.

SFA Grants President Bush and Honorary Doctorate

Just call me Dr. Bush." Former President George Bush cracked jokes and laughed with the crowd gathered in the William R. Johnson Coliseum to hear him speak at SFA' s Academic Convocation.

Bush said he was "delighted to be back in Nacogdoches." He said his speech was a wonderful way to cap off the week for the Bush family, as he had had the Central Intelligence Agency headquarters named after him.

" A true honor particularly since I'm not dead yet," Bush said. Before he began his speech, Bush said he wasn't going to lecture like Socrates "because they poisoned him."

Bush then proceeded to speak on America's role in foreign affairs. This issue, a hot topic right now due to the events in Kosovo, has supporters and dissenters. Bush places himself with the former category.

"Only our country is blessed with a strong economy, peaceful borders, the capability and moral standing to lead," Bush said. "We should lead with principle and stay engaged in global affairs."

Bush said there is an "unholy alliance" in the U.S. today that are for isolationism. He said he doesn't think we should be the world's policeman, but as the only remaining superpower the U.S. has an obligation to lead.

"Freedom, democracy and free markets are the norm (in the U.S.)," he said. "If we don't lead, no one else can."

Bush went on to say that we have to remember that our national symbol is an eagle, not an ostrich.

"There can be no definition of a successful life in America without helping others," he said. "It is important that young people take an interest. Don't just sit on the sidelines and whine and complain."

Office of Public Affairs

Bush was conferred an honorary doctorate degree from SFA by Dr. Dan Angel as the culmination of SFA's 75th anniversary celebration. Friday's Academic Convocation was held 75 years to the day after Sfa's first academic convocation to honor the acceptance of SFA's first building, the Austin Building, by the state.

Angel wore a medallion created for the event by James Snyder, art professor. The Presidential Medallion will remain in the Office of the President for use at official events.

Willie Nelson Guitar Auctioned

A Fender guitar autographed and donated by music legend Willie Nelson during his recent Nacogdoches concert was one of the featured items available during the Silent Auction, a highlight of the annual homecoming celebration October 22-23 sponsored by the Stephen F. Austin State University Alumni Association.

The guitar was auctioned for $550, and proceeds from the guitar benefitted the university's radio station, KSAU.

Shown with the guitar is Dr. Miles McCall, SFA Vice President for Alumni Affairs, Sherry Williford, KSAU faculty advisor, and (center) Shannon Huffhines, KSAU station manager.

The Silent Auction is one of the several events held during Homecoming weekend that raises funds for the Alumni Scholarship Fund.

Favorite Professor

Lone Witliff, marketing lecturer, was the winner in a "Vote for you favorite professor" contest at the College of Business Carer Day.

"I'm just flattered beyond," Wittliff said. "That was some stiff competition."

Wittliff is originally from Sweden and came to the University of Colorado in scholarship. She has taught at Stephen F. Austin since 1981 and teaches marketing and personal selling. Her favorite part of teaching is the students, she said.

"SFA students are wonderful young people," she said. "They're like cats with nine lives. They always come out on top."

This ability to accomplish is why draws businesses to SFA for things like career days, she said.

"SFA students are doers," she said. "They always get things done."

Her examples of the quality of SFA students lines the walls of the marketing and international business office. Posters of laces all over the world decorate the hallways.

All of the posters are collected by the students, and Wittliff's only requirement is that the posters be obtained for free.

Although SFA students get things done, homework is becoming less of a priority to them, she said.

"As a teacher, it's a little frustrating when you expect them to study and they haven't," she said. "I stay after mine pretty tight."

Some of the most satisfying moments come when she hears from students that have graduated, she said.

"That makes me feel good, that I helped somebody succeed in real life," she said.

MTV Rocks the Coliseum

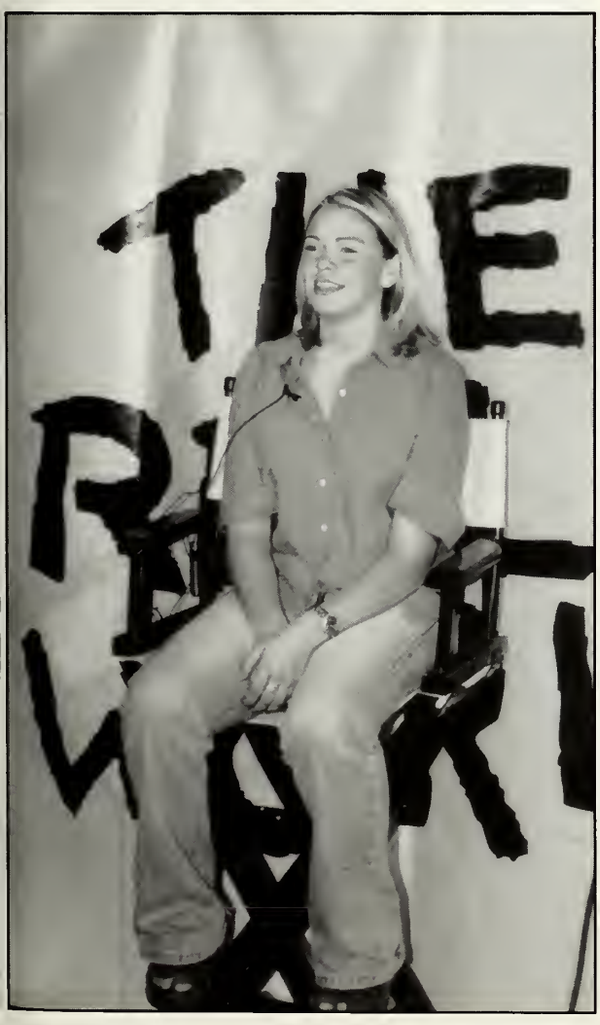
The Real World



MTV Village Concert Rock SFA

The vibrations inside William R. Johnson Coliseum were enough to make the earth shake — literally. Inside the bass drum of a building, rock bands Lit and headliners Garbage pounded out the familiar choruses that brought more than 2,000 people to the concert on the last leg of the MTV Campus Invasion tour.

Every fall, MTV travels from coast to coast stopping at college campuses with entertainment, advertisement of sponsors such as Sony and Neutrogena and casting calls for MTV shows "The Real World" and "Road Rules" in what is called the MTV Village. Bands also travel with the tour and play each night in that college's town.

The Village contained a tent with a live deejay and Sony Playstation setups for students to try out games, a Neutrogena skin care tent where students would get their skin tested for sun damage, a "new videos" tent that offered personal playings of "brand spanking new" videos, a tent for RAINN, the Rape, Abuse and Incest National Network, singer Tori Amos's charity organization and a tent for the casting calls.

SFA was picked as a stop along the way — the only stop in Texas for the tour. Joe Jenkins, Student Activities Association Concert chairperson, was impressed with the turnout to the Village, which was erected at the Ag pond.

"It was packed every time we went over their," Jerkins said. "They even had to start turning people away at 'The Real World' and 'Road Rules' tryouts."

Lit opened the concert and pounded out singles "Ziplock" and "My Own Worst Enemy" along with the announcement of new single "Miserable," a song about addiction in any terms.

The bass was so heavy during Garbage's 2-hour set concertgoers could feel their nostrils and scalps vibrating. Garbage set featured "Super Vixen," "Milk," Stupid Girl," "Paranoid," and "The World is Not Enough," featured on the upcoming James Bond movie of the same name.

Read Aloud
For Kids
Program Kicks Off

When kids love to read, that makes me happy...

Area children have been coming to the UC bookstore this semester to hear Houston senior Alicia Edwards share her excitement for something near and dear to this education major's heart: reading.

Edwards has begun a program called Read Aloud. The second Friday of each month, Edwards reads a story in the children's section of the bookstore. Maurice Sendak's "Where the Wild Things Are" was October's Read Aloud featured book.

Edwards, prepared for the month's reputation for a spookiness, wore a black hat, long gray hair and a graduation gown-turned black robe. The idea for dressing up, and for the program in general, came from Meg Ryan's character in the movie "You've Got Mail." In the movie, Ryan dresses in costume to read to children in her bookstore.

A challenge in putting the program into motion has been coordinating schedules, Edwards said. An elementary education major, Edwards is interning this semester, so her time is limited. Finding a time that works for both her and parents has not been easy, she said. Last month, the Read Aloud was at 3 p.m., and it was moved to 4 p.m. to attract more parents.

Erin Monroe, Jasper senior, said her son Carson enjoys coming to hear the stories.

"It's fun for him to come up here to Mommy's school," she said.

In September, the featured book was "Today I Feel Silly and Other Moods That Make My Day," by Jamie Lee Curtis.

Edwards, whose specialization is reading, said she finds interacting with the childrens the most rewarding part of the program.

"When kids love to read, that makes me happy," she said.

Mr. and Ms. SFA Named

Mr. Jason Gomez of Bossier City, La &
Ms. Paige Pattillo of Nacogdoches

Gomez is vice president of Sigma Tau Gamma fraternity and academic affairs chair of Student Government Association. He is also an orientation leader, member of the Student Foundation and the Order of Omega and a teaching assistant for SFA 101.

He plans to graduate in December and attend graduate school here at SFA, he said.

"My freshman year I thought how cool it would be to get Mr. SFA," he said. "It's a really personal award for me. It's like I've been paid back for all the work I've put into this school."

Patillo is president of the Alpha Chi national honor society, president of the political science honor society, co-president of the history honor society, a football sweetheart, a member of Alpha Chi Omega, the Student Foundation, SFA Ambassadors and the Order of Omega. She has been on the Dean's List for 4 years, the President's Honor Roll for 2 years and a teaching assistant for SFA 101.

One of her most memorable moments at SFA came on April 14, 1996, just after 7 p.m., when she found out she would be the feature twirler for the SFA Marching Band, she said.

"I had wanted it for as long as I could remember," she said.

Patillo plans to graduate in May and stay at SFA to achieve a master's degree in history.

She said if she could go back and do something different, she would have kept a journal for the first years of college.

"I wish as a freshman I would have remembered to savor every moment," she said.

Stone Fort Editor

2000

Ms. Tamera Hall

Editors Note:

Well here it is, another volume of the timeless legacy the Stone Fort. The last Stone Fort yearbook of the 20th century is finally here. Through it all the book has come together quite nicely. I hope you find it to be a good representation of the SFA campus community as well as issues of the past year. Consider this book a photo album that will help you remember SFA in the best way.

In order to complete such a book hard work, organization, determination, and creativity are always a plus. It also helps to have a wonderful staff standing behind you in producing such a book. I have had a great opportunity working with such a fine group of people this last semester.

First of all, I would most definitely like to thank God because without him I would not have been able to produce the book before you today. Life has brought about many challenges this semester while working on this book but, I made it and I thank God everyday for it. I have truly been blessed this year to be able to obtain the experience that I have obtained by working as the editor of this book.

Many thanks goes out to Pat for her input, ideas, support, and encouragement the whole way. I thank her for allowing us to work independently and for trusting us to do a great job.

I thank Julie Jasek our newly adopted yearbook advisor for being there for us when we needed her, doing the little odd jobs that we sometimes requested of her and for her wonderful ideas.

I thank Tony my coeditor for helping to find the best photos to represent SFA and when needed go out and take those photos. Tony has done so many wonderful things for this yearbook as you have seen and I know that it would not be as great without him.

Kim I must say that working with you was its own pleasure and I appreciate all of the hard work that you did on your section. I thank you for always giving your input and working in a timely manner.

Kathryn I have really enjoyed working along beside you and your section has turned to be a wonderful representation of your artist abilities.

JR and Matt many thanks to you for working so hard on your section to produce what it is today.

Rebecca I thank you for all of your hard work and ideas that you have shared. I thank you for being dependable and sticking in there.

Finally I would like to end by saying thank you to all the photographers that went out there and took all the wonderful photos used in this book.

Tamera Hall

2000 Stone Fort Editor

Editors Note:

And now it is finally done! Here is the first volume of the Stone Fort of the new millennium. This book, I hope, will be considered a photo album for you to cherish the memories of the best years of your life at SFA. It was very enjoyable to have created this annual and it helped us reach a new level of creativity. I am very grateful to have been able to work with such great staff.

First of all, I would like to thank Tamera Hall, my co-editor, who I consider a good friend throughout the completion of the yearbook. Without you, this book would not be possible. I am grateful for everything you did. You often completed many tasks before I knew they even existed. You spent more time than anyone else to make sure this book came through. Thanks again, Tamera.

To Pat Spence, the Director of Student Publications, and the Queen of Journalism: I not only want to thank you for all the advising and editing on this yearbook, but for listening and helping me through my many years at SFA. I cannot thank you enough for all the help you provided me.

I would like to thank Julie Jasek, our new Yearbook Advisor and a good friend. I hope you enjoyed your first year working with us. Thank you for all the extra help you gave us when we really needed it.

To Kim Douthitt, Organizations/Academia Editor: Many thanks for sparing the many extra hours to make sure we had a yearbook we could be proud of.

To J.R. Armstrong and Matthew Siri, Sports Editors: Thank you for all the hours you guys spent on the computers. Also I appreciate you both for listening and sharing ideas about one of the hardest sections to complete in the yearbook.

To Kathyrn Durham, Greek Editor: Thank you for always making the deadlines and being very creative with your section.

To Rebecca Davidson, Scholars Editor: I appreciate you taking the task of completing the scholars section of the yearbook. As a photographer for many years, I have so much thanks to give to all photographers. The yearbook would not be possible without you all. Thanks to Hardy, Cindy, Lindsey, Banks, Lisa, Sarah, Dave and others for your photographs and advice.

I would also like to thank my family, Kerri, Kevin, Greg and the Pine Log staff for being great friends and providing support during my time at SFA.

My years at SFA are over, but I will always remember the good times I have had. Thanks, SFASU.
